

MAY MODIFY TERMS OF PEACE

Huns Plead It Will Be Impossible to Fill Financial Requirements.

WHAT WILSON FAVORS DOING

There is a probability that Germany will secure a lessening in the severity of the peace terms. The Germans pleaded it will be impossible to fill the financial requirements of the allies and certain territorial relinquishment is being considered by the council of four. A full discussion of the German counter proposals was held by President Wilson with the American delegation today.

Great Britain, it is said, favors some concessions to Germany, but Greece will not waver from the original terms. On the other hand the Americans are not adverse to making certain minor concessions, but do not favor going to the extent the British propose.

The head of the Austrian peace delegation has departed from St. Germain for Innsbruck, carrying the allied peace treaty.

Counter revolutions are reported from numerous Hungarian towns, forcing hundreds of refugees to the Austrian frontier towns, seeking safety.

In Russia an unconfirmed report says Petrograd has fallen to the Finnish and Estonian troops.

What Wilson Favors

Paris.—American economic experts, in conference with President Wilson today, advocated that Germany be given mandates over her former East African colonies to assist her to meet her financial obligations.

The matter was opened in consequence of Premier Lloyd George's proposal that Upper Silesia be returned to Germany for economic reasons. The American experts, however, suggested that Poland retain Upper Silesia and the Germans be given supervision over certain of her recent East African possessions.

In addition to this question the American commissioners and experts discussed the entire problem of reparations, the Saar Valley settlement, details of the League of Nations and the points brought out in the German counter proposals. The president instructed the American experts to meet their British and French conferees and draw up final conclusions for submission to the Big Four.

From an authoritative source it was learned today that Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau are now agreed on the advisability of modification necessary and when it now was said to be the degree of modification necessary and when it should be done. Lloyd George, it was understood, favors changing the terms before compelling the Germans to sign. Clemenceau was reported to insist that the present treaty should be signed and that it should then be reopened for such modifications as are deemed essential. The president's view as to when the modifications should be made could not be obtained, but that he is in favor of several changes was declared to be certain.

YOUNG—WALKER

Dennis Walker, age 36, of the firm of Fuqua & Walker, of Fordsville, and Miss Kathleen Young, bookkeeper for H. Wilson & Co., of the same place, were united in marriage at 8:30 p. m., at the Baptist church, at Fordsville, Thursday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Russell Walker, pastor of Hartford Baptist church, a brother of the groom. He was assisted by Rev. R. L. Brandenburg, the bride and groom's pastor.

The church was tastefully decorated with daisies, roses and ferns. A beautiful solo, "I Love You," was sung by Mrs. Bert Wilson, of Louisville, a cousin of the bride, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Mayme Hobrecht, of Fordsville. After the ceremony all returned to the residence of Mrs. Kate Young, mother of the bride, where refreshments were served. After refreshments, the couple stole away from their friends, and went to Owensboro. In an auto, from whence they went on a brief bridal tour. They will return this week and be at home to their friends at Fordsville.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

Teachers' Examination will be held at Fordsville the third Friday and Saturday in this month, June 20 and 21st. This is for all who wish to make certificates and have an intention of teaching or have a second-class certificate and wish to make a first. Remember the dates and place, Fordsville, June 20 and 21.

Reports from the Division meetings last Saturday for the purpose of electing teachers indicate a shortage of teachers almost equal to that of last year. The greatest shortage is reported in Division 5, where there are five teachers short. There is a shortage of one in Division 6. Other Divisions have not been fully heard from.

Teachers Institute will be held the second week in July, from the 7th to 11th. Prof. Schlfr, of Tennessee, will be the instructor.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN GOES TO HIS REWARD

R.T. Her, Aged Harness Dealer, Succumbs Friday After Long Illness.

Robert Triplett Her, one of the best known and most liked citizens of the county, died Friday morning shortly after midnight of diseases incident to old age. He had been in failing health for many months and when he became bedfast the last time, his recovery was not expected. He had been afflicted for some time with chronic diarrhoea, which finally caused his death, together with a general breakdown due to his advanced age.

Mr. Her was 83 years of age and had spent almost the entire period of his life in Ohio County. He was born near Ceralvo and was engaged in the harness business there and at Hartford continuously for over fifty years. He was well known to almost every one and a host of his friends will regret to hear of his death. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

He is survived by five children, his oldest son, W. P. Her having died seven years ago. Those who survive him are: Mrs. C. M. Ferguson, O'Brien, Tennessee; Mrs. P. Jones, Ceralvo; R. E. Her, of Rockport; Mrs. T. J. Mullen, of Princeton, Ind.; and J. C. Her, Hartford. Funeral services were conducted Sunday evening at Mt. Olivet, Muhlenburg County, by Rev. R. D. Bennett and interment was made in the cemetery there.

CROMWELL WARRANTS

They are strong on warrants at Cromwell if we may judge by the number that were sworn out by Cromwell citizens for each other last week. It seems that some time back Mr. Dick Shields swore out a warrant for town Marshall Jesse Embry for operating as a marshal without license. Then recently the Marshall tried to arrest Mr. Shields' son, Irvin Shields, and during the arrest Mr. Avery Stewart intervened with the result that Mr. Embry has sworn out a warrant for Mr. Stewart or interference. During the process of arrest young Shields was injured and now another warrant has been sworn out against Marshall Embry, charging him with assault. The cases are set for trial Friday.

DOG BITES LITTLE BOY

Hubert, the little son of Rev. Willis Carden, of Rosine, was bitten by a dog last week and is in a very serious condition. The little child was playing with some other children when a large black hound sprang at him, tearing the flesh on his leg until several stitches were required. The dog was killed. It is not thought the canine was affected with rabies, and though the child has suffered considerably, it is thought he is not dangerously injured.

CROPS IN COUNTY ARE FAR BEHIND

Owing to Excessive Rains and Farmers Are Badly Discouraged.

Reports coming from every section of the county indicate that this is the most backward season experienced in years. Very few crops are making any headway, while a great number of farmers have never planted their crops and some have not even prepared their ground. At this time, with only a part of the season before them, the farmers could not hope to make a full crop if it should cease raining and the soil would do to work. But as it is, it would require several days of sunshine before the ground could be cultivated and there seems little possibility of receiving it. There will doubtless be a very short crop of corn as well as tobacco, though the tobacco seasons have been peculiarly good during the last few weeks. However, with the soil so wet that it cannot be worked, weeds keep on growing and will present a problem when the farmers get an opportunity to combat them.

Very little corn has been planted. Much of what has been planted in the lowlands is under water or has been ruined by the rains while that on the uplands is being choked out by the weeds. Wheat is looking puny and weak from excessive moisture and is not heading scarcely at all. If the weather should clear now and continue so, there will be a short crop; if it does not, there is a doubt whether there will be any at all.

MAKE APPEAL TO OHIO CITIZENS

Ministers and Business Men Urge Support of the Relief Drive.

THOUSANDS ARE STARVING

Fear Friends:—We take it that your hands are filled with cares and your life crowded with kindly deeds and because of these facts we are coming to you once more with a story of distress and suffering. You have stood by the boys that have fought for liberty and sympathize with those who have made sacrifices, but there has come to us out of this war which now, thanks to an intervening Providence, is closed. Many millions whom we have not seen that have been deprived of all resource, so far as the necessities of life are concerned, and who have but one narrow gleam so far as help is concerned, and that is through the sympathetic and generous hearts of the men and women of America. No appeal of this kind has ever been made to us in vain, and we will not now fall those whose hands are held out to us for help. Already hundreds of thousands have starved and many are dying daily for want of bread. Ours is a land of plenty, and we are a people imbued with the helping instinct. Think of it, were you and yours appealing for help how your heart would sink if told that nobody cared.

Ohio county has been assigned the task of collecting for this cause the small sum of $1,408.00, and as there is no other organization working in behalf of these down-trodden people it is literally left to us to say whether they shall live or perish. This movement is strongly endorsed by the President of these United States and Welfare Workers throughout the world.

Therefore, in the name of thousands of hungry children, bereaved and broken-hearted mothers, and for the sake of Him who has wrought us our salvation and has given us this bounty and civilization, we are asking your co-operation in securing this amount, every cent of which will be immediately sent to their relief. With kindest feelings toward all unfortunate folk and especially toward those of the Near East.

Please get together and decide upon your plans and have your amount raised and sent to Miss Cliffie Felix, Secretary-Treasurer.

Yours truly,
Revs. A. D. Litchfield, Russell Walker, J. Walter Greep; C. O. Hunter, W. H. Barnes, A. D. Kirk, J. B. Wilson, Mack Cook, E. G. Barrass.

E. W. FORD, President,
MISS CLIFFIE FELIX, Secy-Treas.

Three valuable cows belonging to Mr. Frank Black were killed by lightning during the electrical storm Saturday night. The cows were in an open pasture and had gone under a tree for shelter, when the lightning struck the tree, killing all three.

Purchasing merchandise from above prices would mean good judgment on your part, even if prices were not advancing. But when we consider the scarcity in some lines and the rapid rising market, with all of which we know you to be acquainted, we believe your buying judgment will bring you to our store during these days of unquestionable prices. We have arranged to take care of you, and don't forget that under present conditions of market prices that you are properly caring for yourself and family when you take the time to select your wants from each department.

GETTING READY FOR DECENNIAL CENSUS

Force of 85,000 Employees Will Be Needed—Must Be Done In Few Weeks

Washington, D. C.—Uncle Sam is rapidly getting ready to "take stock." To put it more clearly, preparations are well along for the fourteenth decennial census, to be taken in 1920.

The last Congress granted an appropriation for the work, and a force of several hundred clerks is busy in the Census Bureau making the necessary preparations for the huge task, which must be accomplished in a few weeks.

For this immense job, the bureau's regular force of about four hundred employees will be expanded to 85,000 or more. The appropriation which Congress has made for the work is $20,500,000. This amount covers also the ordinary expenses of the bureau during 1919.

The census will include not only enumeration of the population of the United States, continental and insular, but also a canvass of the agricultural, manufacturing, mining and quarry, oil and gas and other interests for all the states as well as for the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam, Samoa and the Canal Zone.

For the purposes of the enumeration, the country has been divided into 375 supervisory districts, with a supervisor for each, to whom about 35,000 enumerators will report.

Date Is Advanced

The actual enumeration will be conducted in a few weeks, although it will be several months before results will begin to be known. Nevertheless, the figures will be available much earlier for the 1920 census than was the case in 1910, because this time the census will be taken on January 1, instead of April 15, as in 1910. The change was made because it is believed the agricultural census will be more reliable on the earlier date.

Chief interest in the census, of course, will be in the population, but a great many interests require much more detailed information, such as the ratio of males and females, distribution, degree of literacy, proportion of white and black, proportion of foreign born to native population and many other facts that can be learned only through Uncle Sam's decennial "stock taking." The 1920 census is certain to bring out many changes, for the past decade has been one of wonderful growth and development.

Next to population, the greatest interest will be in the census of agriculture. This will show the number and acreage of farms in the country and in each state and county; the number of acres of improved land; value of farms and the stocks of machinery; number and kind of live stock, and practically every detail of information relating to agriculture.

The census of manufactures is taken every five years, unlike the other findings. This will be of unusual interest this time because the last census was taken in 1914, when the world was at peace. Since then the greatest war in history has been fought and America has accomplished an industrial expansion that is unprecedented. This census, the census of the calendar year 1919, will present a statistical portrait of the transition of American industries from peace to war and from war back to a peace basis.

MARKET NEWS BULLETIN

Washington.—Arrangements for the inauguration of a permit system to control the movement of this year's mammoth grain crop announced by the Railroad Administration contemplate the appointment of grain control committees at each primary market comprised of a representative of both the operating and traffic departments of the Railroad Administration and a third party representing the transportation division of the U. S. Grain Corporation. Shippers will apply thru the railroad agent at the point of origin to the grain control committee at the market to which they wish to send their product. If conditions permit permission for shipment will be given promptly. Otherwise the shipment will be delayed until storage facilities are such that the grain can be moved without causing freight congestion.

LAMBS. Southern lambs have started to move, packers having some forwarded from other markets. The crop is reported larger than last year, and due to the mild winter, the supply is expected to move earlier than usual. This grade of stock will sell in when the Colorado Lamb season closes.

COAL. Farmers will do well to secure their requirements of coal at as early a date as possible because there is impending a 50,000,000 ton shortage in Bituminous production and an 8,000,000 ton shortage in Anthracite. Beyond this the export demand for fuel is particularly heavy from European countries, especially from Italy. Coal prices at present are showing a tendency to rise with the possibility of a much higher price in the early winter.

WHEAT. The official forecast of the decennial census for wheat is 1,115,000,000 bushels in 1919, compared with 72,750,000 in 1917, 98,425,000 in 1918, and with 8,000,000 in 1915. The forecast of yield per acre is 22.3 bushels.

WHEAT. The official forecast of wheat for the same period last year, 1918, was 1,115,000,000 bushels, a considerable increase in the forecast of yield per acre, giving a strong tone to the market with prices up 10c.

LIVE STOCK FOR SLAUGHTER. Live stock for slaughter, including hogs, sheep, and calves, was 1,115,000 head in 1918, compared with 8,000,000 in 1915.

NEW, TRUE, AND INTERESTING

Kentucky Republicans will hear with considerable interest of the appointment of Mr. Phil Brown, of color, to a place in the Congressional library at Washington at a salary, we understand, of $2,300 a year.

Brown's appointment is one of the first "results" of the election of a Republican Congress. What his peculiar qualities are for this position at the expense of the taxpayers we are not advised. He may be a good man for the place or not. But the interest in Kentucky will relate more to the part Brown played in the year 1916 in Kentucky politics.

It is the custom of the Kentucky Republicans to invariably send a colored man to their national conventions as a delegate from the State-at-large. In 1916 this honor fell to Phil Brown. The delegates to the national convention elect the national committeeman from the State. Brown, when he landed at Chicago, was classed as a redoubtable supporter of Mr. McCullough, of Owensboro, for that place. In fact, we think—we are not sure—that when the matter was first brought up Brown voted for Mr. McCullough. But great men frequently change their minds. Like Saul on the way to Damascus, Brown saw a great light, and that light guided him into the camp of Mr. A. T. Hirt, of Louisville. Brown voted for Mr. Hirt on the decisive ballot and Mr. Hirt was elected, and has since been engaged in the congenial task of running the affairs of the Republican party in the State.

But there is a considerable element within the Republican party in Kentucky that is not at all pleased with the management of that party by one small group of men. What they will do to change matters we do not know, but, in any event, they will be interested to hear about Phil Brown and his place in the Congressional library. —Louisville Post.

Preachers and theologians, chasing social service rainbows, have been preaching every since the war began, that the boys when they returned would force a new age on the world. Their vision would be so enlarged, their perspective so changed, that they would demand a new religion, a new government, a new society, so vastly different and superior to the old that it would be next to impossible to fulfill it. Well, most of the boys have returned and, so far as we can see, they are little changed from the boys who went away. If any difference exists, they love the old home, the old church and the old government better than before. They have seen now entirely superior one system is over any thing in the world and they appreciate it. In truth, it was folly to expect a short war to entirely revolutionize the world, anyway. There have been hundreds of wars, as fierce in proportion as this one, and the world still slowly builds upward. A decade cannot remake a world. It requires endless aeons of relentless toil and ages of anguish before the old state can be retouched into a system of infinitely greater promise.

There still a number of roads in Ohio County where the bowers of green oaks cast their cooling shades athwart the way; the blackberries briars hold their tempting fruitage to the passerby, clinging on to him and begging him to partake as he rides by; where the honeysuckle vines clamber over the fences within reach of the autoist, shedding the sweetest of perfume that ever gladdened his nostrils to him as he passes; where the turning of the road is shut off from the view of one coming down the stretches because of the multitude of pleasant shrubbery. There is a law somewhat to the effect that it is a penalty not to keep one's road side cleared for a certain number of feet back from the road—it would be a pity to enforce it and destroy romance. Though it might save a few accidents and possibly lives.

The Hartford Republican comes again with that exploded accusation that we are defenders of lynch law. The Republican made this statement some months back, quoting our entire editorial which it construed to its own meaning, and failed to prove its point. We have never defended lynch law and even if the Republican is a threat to the argument, it should be able to state the time and our words. The fact is, the anti-lynching law which the Republican party is making the shibboleth of its platform, has already been enacted by a Democratic legislature, in substance, and will become effective by the time the Republicans try to make good their promises at the polls.

All signs fail in wet weather. Even the famous moon sign loses its charm. Before the previous moon had waned, we noticed that it was lying on its back and asked a local weather prophet what it betokened. He told us, a wet moon because it was full of water. The last moon was standing on its tip and we asked another prophet its meaning and he said, "A wet moon, don't you see it is on its tip? That is so the water can run out!" And both were right.

The county is fortunate in securing one of the huge war trucks which are being given to the different counties for road repairing and other work. Mr. J. H. Thomas, who drawing, was evidently lucky as he secured one of the two ton size. We trust it will soon arrive and be put to work on the roads need it.

In the death of uncle "Bob" Hirt the county loses one of its best known and most respected citizens. The Herald, together with the host of his friends, extends the most earnest sympathy to his family in their bereavement.

IS INTERESTED IN SUCCESS OF FACTORY GIRL

Mrs. Webster Says She's Always Advising Co-workers to Try Trutona

Louisville, Ky., June, 10.—"I'm always recommending Trutona to the three hundred girls that work with me," Mrs. Nannie Webster, an employe of the American Tobacco Co., here, said recently.

"Before I took Trutona I used to go from four to six days without a bowel action," she continued. "I was extremely nervous. Even little things irritated me terribly. My sister said if I kept on nobody would live with me. My appetite was very irregular. These troubles had bothered me for the last ten years."

"I feel like a new woman and life is really worth living, since I've taken Trutona. My bowels are more regular now and my appetite is fine. I'm not nervous anymore, either. The girls at the factory are always remarking how much better I look now. The pains in my arms, shoulders and head that I formerly experienced have all disappeared."

Trutona, the perfect tonic, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like. It is also a splendid reconstructive tonic.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Hartford, Ky., at the Ohio County Drug Co., Incorporated. Advertisement.

"The intimate article of dress known as the corset which the majority of women wear but know very little about"

Alice S. Cutler, M. D.

IN this pertinent way the well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M. D., describes the most important garment in the wardrobe of women.

"Buy your corset carefully," warns Dr. Cutler. "No one wants to be ill, and when women realize that the constant wearing of an ill-fitting corset helps to keep our hospitals open they will insist on being properly fitted to corsets instead of buying them hit or miss."

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets, the original front-lacing corsets, as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Every Gossard Corset is hygienically correct. If properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed, and carefully adjusted each time it is worn, it will mould that figure to the ideal proportions of its type. It will give a priceless all-day comfort. It will safeguard the wearer against those bodily ailments that are often the result of improper corsetry. It will render a wearing service that alone is worth the price paid for the garment.

If possible, the new Spring and Summer Gossards are superior to those of the past season, which were generally acknowledged to be without equal in meeting the needs of active womanhood from the standpoint of comfort, hygiene, wear and figure improvement. Our highly specialized fitted service reflects our sincere appreciation of the important relation a correctly fitted corset bears to your health, and to that perfect figure poise that gives the elusive charm of style.

Get Thorough Cultivation Without Hard Work

When you use a cultivator you want thorough cultivation first of all. But you want to get this result in the shortest possible time and with the least possible labor.

We want you to see why using the John Deere KC Cultivator does away with the necessity for hard work, and at the same time gets the most thorough results.

Here are just a few of its features that will appeal to you.

Using it, you can meet every field condition without stopping to make adjustments. No wrench is necessary. Cultivation at even depth, and distance of cultivation from the row are accurately regulated by means of handy levers.

Because of its parallel shift rigs, its shovels always face squarely to their work. They never track or trail in dodging on crooked rows. No uncultivated spots are left. You get thorough cultivation over all of the field.

The rigs shift quickly in response to slight pressure on the foot levers. Guiding the rigs is as natural as walking.

We want you to get into the seat of this cultivator and see for yourself how handy and reliable it is. We've never seen its equal for time-saving, labor-saving, weed-destroying work in the field.

"Head and shoulders" above the crowd of ordinary phonographs and "talking machines" stands Edison's great contribution to the world's enjoyment.

Inexpensive Blouses That Possess Real Charm and Character

When you once become familiar with the character and the many splendid qualities of the extremely moderately priced Blouses to be found here at all times, then your entire conception of what an inexpensive Blouse might be will have been changed. Many folks who are unacquainted with our unusual Blouse offerings are of the opinion that a low price for a Blouse is not consistent with good style and real merit; this opinion will undergo a pleasing revision when one but learns of just how good a Blouse a small sum will purchase here. For example take these:

Wirthmor Waists at $1.50

They're decidedly good-looking and they're just as good as they are good-looking. They are made of quality fabrics; they are finished throughout with the utmost care; and they are cut absolutely true to size and warranted to be perfect fitting. They really have so very much to commend them that we urge their acquaintanceship, for we know that a one-time wearer of a Wirthmor most always becomes a staunch friend and loyal admirer.

WHY, INDEED?

General Lee had been lecturing his new recruits at some length on "The duties of a soldier." At last he thought the time had come to find out just what he had accomplished.

Casting his eyes over the room, he fixed them on Private Murphy as his first victim. "Private Murphy," he said, "why should a soldier be ready to die for his country?"

The private scratched his head for a while. Then an ingratiating smile tilted across his face. "Sure, captain," he said, pleasantly, "you're right. Why should he?"

Willie was being measured for his first made-to-order suit of clothes.

"Do you want the shoulders padded, my little man?" inquired the tailor.

"No," said Willie significantly. "Pad the pants."

Student (to servant at the door): "Miss Brown?"

Servant: "She's engaged."

Student: "I know. I'm what she's engaged to."

Senator Simmons, one of the Tariff leaders, relates a conversation he had with a New York politician who was recently in Washington.

"There is one objection to the new tariff bill that I have not seen mentioned, Senator," said the politician.

"What is that?" I asked.

"It doesn't remove the taxes from carpets."

Wife (complainingly): "You're not like Mr. Knagg. They've been married twenty years, and Mrs. Knagg says her husband is so tender."

Husband: "Tender! Well, he ought to be, after being in hot water that long."

"Why is Reginald cowering about in that extraordinary fashion? Has he stubbed his toe?"

"No. He has thought of a good name for a new dance, and is trying to invent a new step to fit it."

Young man (ardently): "I press my suit on bended knee."

Young Lady (lively): "Haven't you an ironing board?"

Quizzer: "What's the matter, old man? You look worried."

Sizzer: "I have cause to be. I tried a man to trace my pedigree."

Quizzer: "Well, what's the trouble? Hasn't he been successful?"

Sizzer: "Successful! I should say he has! He's paying him hush money."

"Don't you believe every woman should have a vote?" asked the Sweet Young Thing.

"No," replied the Young Man. "But I believe a woman should have a voter."

Senator Borah was talking at a dinner at Boise, about an embarrassing question that had been asked at Chicago.

"The question," he said, smiling, "went unanswered. It was like little Willie's query."

"A young gentleman was spending the week-end at little Willie's cottage at Atlantic City, and on Sunday evening after dinner, there being a scarcity of chairs on the crowded piazza, the young gentleman took Willie on his lap."

"Then, during a pause in the conversation, little Willie looked up at the young gentleman and piped:

"Am I as heavy as Sister Mabel?"

"Whatever a man soweth, that shall he reap," Johnny repeated after his father several times, as he seemed to have mastered the correct wording.

As they drew near the Sunday school the father gave Johnny his last rehearsal. "Now, son," he said, "let's have the Golden Text once more."

This is what he got:

"Whatever a man sews always rips."

Ten-year-old William came home one day in a regrettable state of disorder and with a somewhat bruised face.

"Oh, Willie! Willie!" exclaimed his mother, shocked and grieved. "You have disobeyed me again; how often have I told you not to play with that naughty Johnson boy."

"Mamma," said William, in utter disgust at this feminine reprimand, "do I look as if I had been playing with anybody?"

The Latest Vogues In Hair Dressing

The well dressed woman of today has come to realize that to be smartly and fashionably dressed, the coiffure deserves first attention. She spends hundreds of dollars yearly on her clothes, some spend thousands, the purpose of which is to bring out the charm of her personality. Unless there is a harmonizing smartness between her attire and coiffure,—which should be the crowning glory of it all,—her efforts will be in vain. It will be like an artist painting a classical landscape with a humble hut in the foreground.

The styles of hairdressing are undergoing a decided change this season. The most authoritative fashion magazines in the country agree that it is poor form to wear this season the hair in a skimpy, flat manner and that the prevailing mode is to wear the hair high on the crown. Harper's Bazar, the great fashion authority, dwells largely on the smart coiffures.
